

Jennifer Bolton

Senior Communication Consultant

CURRENT RESPONSIBILITY

Jennifer Bolton is a senior communication consultant for the Milliman Employee Benefits Administration practice. Using her writing skills and benefit knowledge, she consults with clients on creative, results-driven strategies to communicate benefits and human resources initiatives to employees.

EXPERIENCE

Jennifer's experience includes 20 years of communication consulting to a broad range of client companies. She has developed award-winning communication campaigns and strategies for retirement programs, health and welfare plans, investment education, wellness programs, branding, compensation, and corporate social responsibility initiatives.

Prior to joining Milliman, Jennifer was a senior communication consultant at a national employee communication agency. She has also written for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

EDUCATION

Bachelor of Journalism, Magazine Writing, University of Missouri

HONORS

Jennifer has received numerous communication awards, including the American Advertising Association's Addy Award, the International Association of Business Communicators Gold Quill award, and the Business Insurance Employee Benefits Communication Award.

