Actuary

CURRENT RESPONSIBILITY

Abby Sternberg is a consulting actuary with Milliman's San Francisco Property & Casualty practice. Abby joined Milliman in 2005.

EXPERIENCE

Abby currently provides consulting services to a wide range of InsurTech startups, insurance companies, and self-insured entities. Her areas of expertise include:

- Working on traditional reserving projects for personal and commercial lines insurance carriers
- Conducting reserving, funding, and self-insured retention analyses for state governmental agencies, self-insured entities, and captive insurance companies
- Serving on special project work, including 'rent-an-actuary' assignments, working on site in insurance companies' offices, leading reserving and rating departments
- Redesigning insurance company reserving and rate indication processes by developing actuarial reserving and rate templates, and training client personnel to use these templates
- Integrating InsurTech solutions into rating and other insurance processes
- Developing new insurance products focused on efficient use of technology
- Preparing state rate filings and seeking regulatory approval

Abby has completed several pricing projects for emerging markets such as commercial auto transportation network systems, and commercial and personal autonomous vehicles.

Prior to joining Milliman, Abby worked for Houston Casualty Company on the pricing and reserving of various commercial lines.
