

Harsha Mirchandani

Actuarial Analyst

CURRENT RESPONSIBILITY

Harsha Mirchandani is an actuarial analyst with the New York office of Milliman. She joined the firm in 2016.

EXPERIENCE

Harsha has provided consulting services to a broad range of clients, including health plans, hospital systems, pharmaceutical companies, and other healthcare providers.

Harsha has extensive experience with the following:

- Assisting pharmaceutical clients with market segmentation and payer launch strategy
- Conducting actuarial modeling using epidemiological data and payer claim data
- Arranging risk-sharing between payers and providers, and payers and pharmaceutical companies
- Assisting fully and self-insured large groups with developing contribution rates
- Developing Part D bids

Prior to joining Milliman, Harsha worked in pharmaceutical and medical device marketing.

EDUCATION

BS, Chemical Engineering with Mathematics Minor, Tufts University

